Ohio Construction Company Which Proposes To Build Interurban To Madison, Incorporated.

SIGNERS ARE ALL JANESVILLE MEN

First Step Of The Ohio Syndicate To Begin Work On The Proposed Road To The Capital City.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., July 20.—When the articles of incorporation of the Cincinnati Construction Company, capital stock $25,000, were filed in Secretary of State Frear's office at the Capitol this morning, the first real steps in the interurban railway project between Janesville and Madison were taken by the syndicate of Ohio capitalists were made.

Sutherland Attorney
Attorney George Sutherland of Janesville, accompanied by Chief Engineer Joseph E. H. of the company, filed the articles which ask that the Cincinnati Construction Company be permitted to construct, maintain and operate an electric interurban road between Janesville, Rock County, and Madison, Dane County, in the state of Wisconsin. No stated direction is given, no other towns mentioned, no possible stopping places of the proposed road.

Janesville Men
The articles of incorporation were signed by five Janesville men—J. M. Doolittle, M. P. Richardson, Archibald, P. H. Koest and Richard Valentine. It is understood that H. H. Ziegler, who represents the Ohio syndicate, and several of the company will reach Janesville tomorrow evening and that the final organization of the company will be begun at once.

The Survey
Chief Engineer E. H. expects to report part of the work. Thus far the party at work have gone as far as Stoughton and will now push on into Madison. As this is but the first survey and two more are to be run before the route is determined definitely nothing definite can be said regarding the possible route at this time.

Make Application
As soon as the survey is completed a petition will be made to the state railroad commission to construct the road and if matters are adjusted satisfactorily construction work will begin this fall.

This year the board of directors have added many new attractions, including an airship, automobile races, vaudeville shows and other pleasing features to fill in the time between the trotting and running races. Premiums valued at $22,000 have been offered and as a result the choicest products of the stock farms, orchard and field are now on display. The stock show is the largest and best ever seen here. The poultry display also is worthy of especial note.

NATIONAL INDEPENDENCE LEAGUE TO NAME TICKET

At Convention Which Hearst's Party Will Hold In Chicago Next Week.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, July 20.—With one exception all of the presidential tickets have been named for the November election. The exception is the ticket to be placed in the field by the National Independence League, of which William F. Vilas is the founder and guiding spirit. The candidates for president and vice-president will be named by the National Independence party at a convention to be held in Chicago next week. At the headquarters of the party in this city it was said today that the arrangements for the convention are about completed and that a large and representative attendance is assured. Great uncertainty exists as to who will head the ticket. Up to the present time the only person whose name has been at all prominently mentioned in connection with the honor is Thomas L. Haden, a man of wealth and a fierce opponent of the trusts, who ran for governor of Massachusetts a year ago on the Independence League ticket.

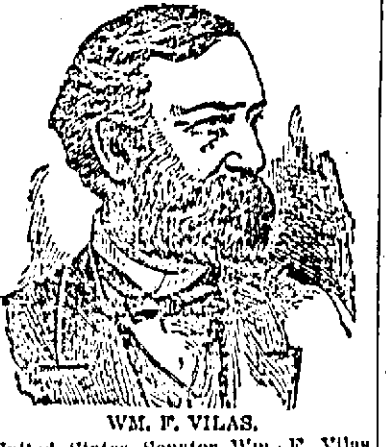

Upon his recent return from Europe Mr. Hearst lost no time in getting down to work in anticipation of the national campaign. It was predicted all along that the Hearst force would not lift a hand to prevent the nomination of Mr. Bryan by the democrats, but would work strenuously to prevent the Nebraska's election. The prediction did not wait long for fulfillment. The morning following the nomination of Mr. Bryan by the Democratic convention the Hearst newspapers in this city contained editorials that made it plain that Mr. Bryan could not count on the support of Hearst in the campaign.

All efforts of Mr. Bryan to conciliate the New York editor will prove futile in the belief of political leaders here. Mr. Hearst has an old score to settle with his contemporary of the "Commoner." After enthusiastically supporting the Nebraska in 1896 and 1900 Mr. Hearst relied upon Mr. Bryan's support in his contest for the democratic nomination four years ago, when the Nebraska leader was not a candidate. But not only did Mr. Bryan refuse to aid Mr. Hearst on that occasion, but he seconded the nomination of former Senator Cockrell of Missouri.

WILLIAM F. VILAS IS IN VERY CRITICAL CONDITION

Former United States Senator And Member Of Cleveland's Cabinet, Has Hemorrhage Of The Brain.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., July 20.—Former

United States Senator Wm. F. Vilas

is seriously ill at his home in this city. Just how sick Mr. Vilas is cannot be learned as at his home no statement was given out, except that Mr. Vilas was confined to his bed. It is announced that Mr. Vilas is suffering from hemorrhage of the brain. A report was in circulation to the effect that he had suffered a stroke of paralysis, but this is denied by members of the family. However, the illness of Mr. Vilas is serious enough so that Mrs. Vilas summoned members of the family to Madison, his brother, E. P. Vilas of Milwaukee, and other relatives, by telephone today.

The particulars of the murder have not been received and none of the circumstances are known.

Friends left here today for Boone to get the remains which will be shipped back to Whitewater for burial.

SEVENTEEN ANSWERED TO DRUNKENNESS CHARGES

In Municipal Court This Morning—Four Pleaded Not Guilty and Cases Will Be Investigated.

Seventeen prisoners were arraigned in municipal court this morning on charges of drunkenness. Four of the number were picked up in the Fourth Ward park when the patrol wagon responded to a call from an irate resident who complained of the singing which kept him awake after midnight. Three of the four claim to have been discussing the hard rights' war at the evening factory, while the fourth averred that he just wandered to the scene in awe when the trouble was about. The four were released pending an investigation. James Clifford who engaged in a flat fight with "Dumey" Sullivan on South Pearl street Saturday night, went to jail for 7 days. Otto Ingego and Roscoe Sherwood received 6-day sentences; Henry Watson, a 6-day term; Jack Howard and Marion Bell, paid $2.20 each. Cases against Frank Reineke, Charles Kingsley, Tim Collins and a man from Newark were adjourned. Collins took the pledge for one year. The case of Ole Oleson, who paid part of a fine for drunkenness Saturday morning and who was arrested again the same day, was taken under advisement. The officers are looking for an opportunity to chain him into a wagon bound for Leyden.

City Bella Sank: The City Bella sank Saturday night at her moorings above the upper bridge. She was in use up to eight o'clock Saturday night, but sprung a leak sometime during the night. A gang has been at work today attempting to raise the boat. No one was on the steamer when she sank.

Guild Meeting: The guild of the Christ church held a social meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. Stevens. Light refreshments were served.

POLITICIANS ARE BUSY THESE DAYS

PRIMARY LAW MAKES WORK FOR THE CANDIDATES EARLY

RUSH FOR THE SIGNERS

Many Candidates out for the County Offices. Thus far—Stephenson's Papers Liberally Signed.

If there is a citizen of Janesville who has not been importuned to sign at least a dozen nomination of different republican candidates for state or county offices he is a marvel. Within the past month the nomination papers have run riot in Janesville and now people are so accustomed to them that many sign without looking. One man actually has a little rubber stamp ready to stamp his name down to save time. It is all the fault of the primary law. This requires that each candidate secure the signatures of a certain per cent of the voters in the different precincts of his district before filling them with the proper officials so his name can appear on the primary ballot. The real campaign work does not end with the signing of the names it is only the preliminary step.

Many Papers.
First came the nomination papers of the state officials. They were out early and were liberally signed. Sent to personal friends of the candidates they were quickly distributed and sworn to and returned. Almost before they were out of the way, came the Whitewater and Chubbuck papers for the state senate on the republican ticket. These were seized with avidity and quickly finished. Senator Whitehead's opposition had apparently divided the old guard and he was given a royal list to file. Mr. Chubbuck also had his friends and the two lists were quickly completed.

For The Assembly.
On the assembly lists are found two republican candidates from the first district. Laurence Whitely, of Edgerton, who seeks to represent the first assembly district, to succeed A. S. Baker of Evansville, who refuses to run again had the call for his candidacy signed by republicans regardless of factional differences of the past. L. E. Gottle, also of Edgerton also seeks the office. In the second district Grant U. Fisher is the only republican candidate thus far out. Hon. Phyl Norcross refusing to become a candidate again. In the third district it is probable that Shinn Smith will be nominated as no one else has made any steps towards securing the nomination.

Stephenson's Papers.
Within the past week the nomination of Isaac Stephenson for United States Senator, have been received in the city and distributed throughout the county. Thus far Mr. Stephenson appears to have the Rock County field all his own. The campaign buttons with which they were taken shows that the Marinette man has the good will of Rock county residents at least. Fully a dozen papers have already been signed and returned to the committee in charge of his campaign and as many more are in process in signing to go in later. Thus far no Cook, McGovern or Hatten papers have appeared.

County Officers.
There are going to be some lively contests for the republican nomination for the county offices this year. With the exception of Howard W. Lee, the present county clerk, and Jesse Earle, the clerk of the court, the other offices will be hotly contested for. Mr. Lee and Mr. Earle have no opposition thus far. The fight for the

MRS. EDWIN FIFIELD DIED THIS MORNING

Former Janesville Resident Passed Away in Beloit This Morning.

Mrs. Edwin Fifield died this morning early at the Beloit hospital. She was born in Michigan, April 2, 1863, and married R. D. Goodwin of Beloit in 1885 and made her home in Beloit where Mr. Goodwin conducted the Goodwin Home. Mr. Goodwin died in 1891 and on November 10, 1898, she married Mr. Edwin C. Fifield of this city. After her marriage with Mr. Fifield she made her home in Janesville for seven years, removing about three years ago to Beloit where she has since resided.

She leaves to mourn her loss a daughter, Margaret Goodwin, who is now a teacher in Beloit college, and a son, David Fifield, aged eight.

Her mother-in-law, Mrs. C. S. Goodwin, also survives her and has made her home with Mrs. Fifield for a number of years.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at 2:30 from the home on the river road and will be private except for relatives and immediate friends.

DENISON PARTY
ON THE PACIFICCOSMOPOLITE LIFE ABOARD THE
"MONGOLIA" DESCRIBED IN LETTER.

CELEBRATION OF FOURTH

Out on the Lonesome Ocean—One of the Chinese Crew Dies—Slump in Shipping Caused by Depression and Chinese Boycott.

Letter No. 1, written aboard the Pacific Mail Co's steamer "Mongolia" on July 4, has been received from Roy Robert C. Denison, who, in company with the three Jeffries boys, is doubtless enjoying the strange sights of Yokohama, Japan, by this time. He tells in a very interesting manner about the ship and her crew and gives a graphic description of the celebration on shipboard of Independence Day.

On the Pacific, July 4th, 1908
The steamer "Mongolia" is one of the finest vessels on the Pacific and a credit to our small American merchant marine. She is American built by the New York Shipbuilding Co. of Camden, New Jersey, and was launched in 1904. Her officers are Americans and her crew Chinese.

The American vessels on the Pacific find it almost impossible to compete with the Japanese because the latter are heavily subsidized by their government. Also, the American officers are, of course, paid according to the scale of American wages, and the Japanese officers of Japanese ships are paid on the far lower scale of wages in the Orient. The Japanese are, however, obliged to have either the captain or first officer of their vessels a white man. In order to secure Lloyd's insurance on the cargo, which the majority of shippers demand, it costs about $15,000—sometimes as high as $17,000—for the "Mongolia" to make the round trip from San Francisco to the Orient, and on the present trip she is carrying 2,000 tons of freight, with a capacity for 15,000 tons, which of course means a considerable loss—made up on this summer trip by the large number of passengers traveling to and from Honolulu. The Southern Pacific railroad is said, however, to be back of the Pacific Mail line and will maintain it as a feeder for the railroad freight business. In fact, the best ships of the line—the "Manchuria" and the "Mongolia"—are owned by E. H. Harrington, personally, and for their use the company pays $1,000 a day.

One American travel agent on board, who makes frequent trips to the Orient, told me that he travels only on American ships. When I asked him if his reason was that he thought them safer he answered, "No, but then I am an American and have been in patronizing home industries."
The freight clerk on the "Mongolia" informs me that, in addition to the fact that there is but little cargo moving now because of general depression, the Chinese boycott is particularly depressed by the Chinese boycott of Japanese goods. The "Ponyo Marti," a new Japanese ship which arrived in San Francisco the day before the "Mongolia" sailed, did not carry a pound of Chinese freight. He says that Japanese goods cannot be bought in China, so effective is the boycott. This boycott is a popular movement, ostensibly forbidden but secretly encouraged by the Chinese officials to punish Japan for the recent seizure of a Chinese vessel.

One of the most interesting features of a Pacific ship is the Chinese crew.
Like the Chinese with whom we are most familiar in America they come almost altogether from the neighborhood of Hongkong and Canton. They are employed on board ship as stewards and common sailors and are paid about seven or eight dollars a month. The best looking ones are selected as waiters for the tables, where they render excellent service.

One member of the crew died last night and his embalmed body, covered with a coarse burk cloth, lay on the deck with his fellow laughing, chattering and gambling nearby. A Chinaman is never buried at sea.

In order to meet the demands of the Asiatic passengers and crew a room is set apart in the stowage where opium may be smoked and it is constantly in use. The Chinese, as a nation, are given to gambling and in the stowage a number of gambling games and lotteries are in progress all day. The officers inform me that it is necessary to allow this in order to keep the Chinese crew.

"Though inveterate gamblers the Chinese are said by everyone to be scrupulously honest and their word absolutely good. This is, however, commonly said but to be true of the Japanese. As one man who has apparently had large experience in the Orient put it to me: 'If the Japanese can better himself, after he has made you a promise, he will not hesitate to do so.'"

Another of the interesting features of the ocean steamship is the number of different nationalities one meets. The ship is a sort of international gathering. For instance, I have already met and talked with Americans, Englishmen, Irishmen, Germans, Russians, Japanese, and Chinese. The Russian is a prominent feature in the stowage—a big man with a fierce moustache. He said: "Russia will yet have her way in the far east. She is a northern people and the northern peoples have always in the long run proved stronger than the southern.
Japan came in at the back door and got us unawares, but we shall wipe out time and some day wipe them out."

An Englishman, in repeating the popular verdict that the Japanese are not always reliable in business matters, shrugged his shoulders and said:
"Well, but then the Americans are not, either."

So the gossip of the ship runs and the one thing most necessary in establishing it is, as with other gossip, not to take much of it seriously and not to believe much of what you do take.

The Pacific at this season of the year and in this southern latitude is very smooth and the weather warm.
Compared with the Atlantic, it is a lonesome sea. Since leaving San Francisco we have sighted only one vessel and that a United States transport carrying soldiers to the Philippines, which we passed in the dusk two evenings ago.

Monday morning, early, we shall be in Honolulu where the ship lies for about twenty-four hours to discharge and take cargo. About half of the passengers also will leave the ship there, many of them being residents of the Pacific states who find the Hawaiian Islands an agreeable place for a vacation.

The 4th has been celebrated today in typical fashion. A committee did the usual things: took up a collection to provide prizes and made arrangements for a program. There was an address by Wm. Morgan Shuster, a member of the Philippine commission who is acting from his position as the American people, the Philippine policy of the republican party, and President Roosevelt, in a very clear and graceful speech. The Declaration of Independence was read by a prominent Hawaiian gentleman and patriotic airs were sung by a chorus, which was occasionally on the key. A platform was laid down on the forward deck and the boys and girls had their freerackon. Then followed potato races, foot races, shot put and a boxing match.

One contest I had never seen before. A number of men ranged themselves in a circle. A soda cracker was fastened on top of their heads by a string held under the chin. Then each was given a newspaper rolled up like a wand and at a signal they commenced trying to break the crackers on each other's heads. The principle was, whoever got away a cracker hit it, and for a few moments the air was full of cracker fragments. The last man with any cracker left on his head won the prize. A dinner and some singing on the deck in the evening concluded the patriotic festivities of this little American colony.

party, consisting of Prof. C. L. Crandall, E. W. Hittger and A. C. E. Irwin of the college of engineering of the University of Wisconsin, E. E. Parker, J. B. Kummer, W. S. Kinner and O. L. Kowalek were in the city.
The party is made up of professors and instructors from the colleges of engineering of the universities of Cornell and Wisconsin.

The work they are carrying on is the testing of railroad bridges for stress and compression caused by trains passing over them at different speeds and with different loads. This work is financed by the Railway Matenance of Way Association, which all the big railroads in the country belong. A certain amount of work is done each summer and the results published. The party which was in Janesville started at Byron, Minn., and worked up to this city testing bridges on the St. Paul road. From here they went to Oklaoma, where they will work on the Santa Fe road.
After that work will be done on the Pensylvanian and Erie roads as far east as Pittsburgh and then on the Norfolk and Virginia.

Dean F. E. Tarneaux, who is the Dean of the college of engineering at Madison, is the head of the party.
Prof. Crandall is from Cornell and is the professor of railway engineering in that institution and the other members of the party are instructors in the two universities.

SUNDAY SCOOT MADE
FIRST RUN YESTERDAY

Three Hundred Passengers Aboard Themselves of the New Service on North-Western.

About twenty-five people from here made use of the Sunday run of the "scoot" yesterday but people from the towns along the route took the journey so that in all about three hundred took the trip. Many of these went only because it would be a novel trip, but there were some who used the car to get to their cottages at Koshkonong and to go to Port Atkinson and other points along the line.
There was quite a number got off when the car returned last evening.
Both the outgoing and the incoming trips were made in the time scheduled.

ENGINES SMASHED
IN A COLLISION

Engines 939 and 1616 Collided at Walworth on Last Friday Morning.

Engine 329 running light with a cabinoose in which was a bridge inspecting crew ran into engine 1616 which was on the way-freight going south, last Friday morning at Walworth. The way-freight crew had received orders to look out for the engine and cabinoose coming up from the south, but in some way did not perceive them.
Half the train of the way-freight had been left on the track near the station while the engine was doing some switching. As the tracks are straight, for some distance on either side of the Walworth station the crews will have difficulty in satisfactorily explaining the smash-up.

The two engines struck head-on while going about twenty miles an hour and both were badly broken up, so that they had to be taken to Chicago for repairs. The wrecking crew worked most of Friday and all Friday night and part of the next day to clear the track and a wrecker was sent up from Chicago.

No one was injured.

WRECKED AT KOSHKONONG

Machine Owned by Sam Echlin, with Friend of Owner at Steering Wheel Failed to Get Over Stump.
With the front axle and transmission case wrecked, the runabout owned by Sam Echlin was brought here from Lake Koshkonong Saturday evening, for repairs. The owner was not aboard the machine when the accident happened. In piloting the car through a piece of woods, the driver underestimated the height of a small stump and tried to "straddle" it with the disastrous results aforesaid. No one was injured.

FINDS RHUBARB
IN THE CELLARCAN BE GROWN IN THE FALL AND WINTER IN THE CELLAR.

THE CLOTHILDE SEUPOIT

Is New Polantha Rose Recently Introduced and Which Will Have Many Admirers.

It is now time to make planting plans for the fall and winter. If you have a cellar with a dirt floor, and have rhubarb plants which have supplied you in the spring, here is a plan by which they can be made to produce a crop of tender shoots in the winter, when the plan and sauce are most welcome.

Rapid growth is essential to insure tenderness of the rhubarb. The very best can be raised in the winter, warm cellar being the only requisite for forcing it. The roots of the plants should be dug up late in the fall with large quantities of dirt adhering to them. These clumps of earth containing the roots may be piled up outdoors until midwinter when they should be carried into the cellar and placed in a bed prepared in the earth floor. The clumps of earth should be held close together in rich, moist earth, and covered to a depth of four to six inches.

Growth soon commences. Light is not a requisite. In a short time this rhubarb will be ready for the table.
The shoots will be almost colorless and remarkably tender and palatable.
A very small bed containing only half a dozen well developed hills will be sufficient to supply a family for several weeks. Roots sent up a large number of shoots and exhaust themselves in about four weeks. For an additional supply roots should be planted at intervals of two or three weeks.

Polyantha Roses
A recently introduced rose that will have many admirers is Clothilde Seup-oit, a dwarf polyantha, which is quite hardy and at the same time is a free and continuous bloomer. The flowers are of a medium size, flesh color with a rosy center, well formed. The plant is vigorous, erect, quite hardy and flowers abundantly. It is well adapted to beds and masses.

The Baby Rambler rose, a dwarf polyantha of recent origin, is particularly suitable for planting in beds, being a strong grower with upright habit, yielding large clusters of crimson or white flowers, of only medium size but very effective because of the profusion with which they are produced. It is hardy, vigorous, and continuous flowering. It has good foliage and will be largely grown by all plant lovers. It supplies a long felt want—a good bedding rose. While the flowers are not as desirable for cutting as those produced on single stems, the clusters of blossoms can be utilized in vases to good effect. Moderate protection in winter is recommended.

Mrs. Cordelia Brunner, a dwarf polyantha, one of the finer roses, so-called because of their miniature buds and blossoms, will be highly prized. Its perfect little buds are followed by small but fully developed flowers of a salmon color afterwards becoming white. The flowers are in clusters.
Its wealth of exquisite flowers make it admirable for bedding.

Hardy Phlox
Phlox paniculata, the tall, perennial phlox of which there are so many admirable varieties in cultivation and which is becoming so popular, is a native flower found growing wild in many states and generally in rocky places.

The many beautiful forms of this species in cultivation now have been obtained by hybridization and selection. The plants begin to flower about the end of July and continue until autumn. There are so many kinds listed it is a puzzle to the beginner to choose. They are most effective for bordered borders and many are so tall they can be used as a background in masses of one color.

They succeed well in almost any soil or position but must be kept well watered during the hot weather or they will lose their lower leaves and present a wilted appearance. The clumps should be lifted, divided and reset every two years. Plenty of fertilizer is needed, a mulch of manure about the roots in summer being very beneficial. The old stems should be removed in the fall after flowering.
Pure white and light pink varieties are fine for cut flowers.

To increase stock of choice varieties, take the small side shoots in June or later, insert in sand and keep in a moist and shaded place until roots are formed. When the slips are well rooted they can be planted and will produce flowers the same season, needs produce inferior flowers in most cases.

PARTY LEADERS MEET HITCHCOCK

WESTERN CONFERENCE OPENS IN COLORADO SPRINGS.

TAFT IN A LABOR UNION

Steam Shovel Men Elect Him an Honorary Member—Bryan on Republican Campaign Fund Announcement.

Colorado Springs, Col., July 20.—When Frank H. Hitchcock, chairman of the Republican national committee, arrived here Sunday evening to consult with the members of the national committee and chairman of western state and territorial committees, he was greeted by a large number of political leaders who had reached the Springs during the day. He found assurances from others which made it certain that the two days' conference, which opened Monday, would be a success.

The men who met Chairman Hitchcock are as follows:

Members of the national committee: W. S. Burleigh, Arizona; Charles Cavender, Colorado; Senator William R. Borah, Idaho; David W. Mulvane, Kansas; Thomas C. Marshall, Montana; Victor Rosewater, Nebraska; Solomon Lann, New Mexico; James Kennedy, North Dakota; Cash M. Cade, Oklahoma; Ralph B. Williams, Oregon; Thomas Thorson, South Dakota; Cecil A. Lyon, Texas; William Spry, representing C. H. Locke, Utah; Robert L. McCormick, Washington, and George H. Paxton, Wyoming.

State chairmen: Herbert R. Tenney, Arizona; George Stone, California; John F. Vivian, Colorado; James H. Brady, Idaho; J. T. Moore, Kansas; Fletcher Muldrew, Montana; William Hayward, Nebraska; George F. Turrittin, Nevada; H. O. Burrum, New Mexico; L. R. Hanna, North Dakota; Charles E. Hunter, Oklahoma; W. M. Cade, Oregon; W. C. Cook, South Dakota; Cecil A. Lyon, Texas; Wesley K. Walton, Utah; A. E. Statter, representing Washington; and Vice-Chairman Grumm, representing Charles W. Jurdick, Wyoming.

The national committeemen from California and Nevada were unable to come. Senator Warren of Wyoming and a number of other Republicans not members of the committee will be here.

Taft Elected by Steam Shovel Men.

Hot Springs, Va., July 20.—When Judge Taft goes to Cincinnati to be notified of his nomination for the presidency by the Republican party he will receive notice of his election as a member of a labor organization. He has been elected a member of the International Society of Steam Shovel Men, of which T. J. Dolan of Chicago, is president.

Mr. Taft had a good deal to do with the steam shovel men at Panama. His notification of his membership in the union will be made on July 29. He will probably leave here next Saturday for Cincinnati and may not return until the following Saturday. Judge Taft has concluded that it will not be possible for him to attend any state fairs before the election. After September 1 he expects to remain in Cincinnati until the election is over.

Judge Taft attends the opening of court at Germantown, five miles from Hot Springs, Monday, and delivers an address on the administration of justice. Gen. H. C. Corbin and Mrs. Corbin are here by invitation of Mr. Taft.

Bryan Tells Taft to Go Further.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., July 20.—The statement of Judge Taft at Hot Springs, Va., that the Republican national committee would not accept any contributions from corporations in his campaign was viewed here with more than ordinary interest. Mr. Bryan gave it his special attention. In fact so impressed was he with the announcement that he broke his usual silence and dictated the following statement:

"We welcome him to this advanced ground and bid him to go further and announce that all individual contributions above a reasonable minimum will be made known before the election."

DOUBLE CRIME IN INDIANA.

Merchant Kills Young Farmer and Then Commits Suicide.

Frankfort, Ind., July 20.—Early Sunday in the town of Hillsburg, ten miles east of here, Clarence Jones, a young business man, shot and instantly killed Claude Pruitt, a young and well-known farmer, and then sent a bullet into his own brain and fell dead.

The men had been drinking and it is alleged the shooting was the result of an argument over a card game. Pruitt was 23 years old and only recently married. Jones was 28 years old and leaves a widow and daughter. The shooting created great excitement.

Indiana Woman Is Murdered.

Columbus, Ind., July 20.—The body of Mrs. Carrie H. Percille was found in a pool of blood west of the city Sunday night. John Underwood, a street car motorman was placed under arrest. The woman was recently divorced from her husband.

Rev. Dr. Elmsendorf Is Dead.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 20.—Rev. Dr. Joachim Elmsendorf, a widely-known minister of the Dutch Reformed church, died here Sunday after an illness of several months. Dr. Elmsendorf was born in Rochester, N. Y., 81 years ago.

A BURGLAR'S ROMANCE

By H. M. Gardner.

"Well?" Bill Evans, gentleman burglar, who by the dimmed gaslight had been quietly working at the combination of the library safe, turned with a start. Standing in the doorway, with leveled revolver, was a beautiful white-robed girl. Thick, wavy brown hair fell in tumbled masses on her shoulder, her cheeks were slightly pale, and the hand which held the revolver slightly trembled.

"Well?" drawled Bill, slowly arising to his feet. He was a handsome fellow, mainly built, with frank, open countenance. Mechanically his hand went to his coat pocket.

"Don't you dare," emphatically cried the girl.

Evans pulled cigarettes from his pocket.

"Here one?" he queried, approaching.

"I'll scream; keep away," she threatened.

"Oh, I won't harm you," reassured Bill, closing the box.

"Are you a real—real burglar?" naively asked the girl.

Bill laughed. "No—bless your heart, little one. I'm a financier. I live on borrowed capital."

"But what are you doing here at this time of night, kneeling before papa's safe?" queried the girl in surprise, letting the gun fall to her side.

"Well, it's this way. Your father is a very busy man; he does not like to be annoyed. Knowing this, and needing money, I just slipped in here to borrow some, while he slept."

"Oh, oh, but that is—"

"Now, now, I know what you are going to say," interrupted the burglar financier. "You are going to say that is stealing. Usually it would be so, but I never borrow at night without leaving a properly signed note. He pulled out a slip of paper. Handing it to her, the girl read:

"Ten days after death, I promise to pay to the order of ———, at the Bank of Any Time, the sum of—
H. U. NEXT."

The girl fingered the note gingerly. "H. U. Next," she repeated, slowly. Then her eyes twinkled merrily. She seemed to forget fear; forgot that it is very unconventional for a young girl, attired in night robe, to sit chatting with a burglar.

"You're joking!" she exclaimed, eyeing him roughly. "You are a burglar, I'm next."

As Bill looked at the smile-wreathed face, he sighed inwardly.

Why had he not met a girl like her before? Oh, if he could only hope!

But, beware!—she a millionaire's daughter—and he a burglar.

"See-ah," warned the girl. A noise was heard in the room above.

"Come with me," she seized his hand and led the way into an adjoining room. A window, strangely open, looked out upon the broad porch.

"Now go," she said, giving his hand a warm pressure. He looked deeply into her eyes. "Go, and try to be better; be better, for my sake." Her head drooped prettily.

Instantly Evans caught her in his arms, and drawing her to him, planted a kiss, hot and lingering, on her warm upturned lips. Then he stepped through the window and was gone.

The memory of that kiss lingered, when he picked up the power at breakfast next morning. Glaring headlines met his gaze:

$20,000 STOLEN FROM COL. HEF. FARMER'S HOME.

Safe of Well-Known Bachelor Looted by Robbers.

Woman's night robe, and note for $20,000, evidently left for joke, the only clues. Note says: "Ten days after death, I promise to pay to the order of Col. Hefferman, at the Bank of Any Time, the sum of $20,000."

(Signed) H. U. NEXT."

On the back is indorsement in woman's handwriting, "H. U. Next." Then below are the words: "Get wise—better reform—hm, ha!"

"Stung!" ejaculated Bill, crumpling the paper and throwing it from him.

"And I had resolved to reform and was dreaming of marrying an heiress. Outwitted by a female crook!"

Laugh and Live.

Laughter is an excellent medicine, says the most perfect of villains, is said to have died at the age of 110.

In the personality of his son he was idealized by the immortal Shakespearo. Laughing is not necessarily a boisterous guffaw. A man may laugh inwardly without making a sound, but the shaking up he receives is better than all the massage he could buy of the professors. The laugh is the life. Smiling is far too mild. Shako-ho up! You should have jolly cachinnation at least once a day.—N. Y. Press.

Problem Puzzles Chemists.

No process has yet been discovered by which the highly arsenical ore found in Cobalt properties can be smelted. This problem has been the subject of research by many chemists particularly those of Germany, and there is a fortune awaiting the discoverer. Many of the smaller properties in the Canadian silver district have large quantities of ore which is practically useless at the moment on account of the percentage of arsenic which it contains.

COEY WINS THE BALLOON RACE

THE CHICAGO IS BEST WITH 73 MILES TO ITS CREDIT.

ALL CONTESTANTS LANDED

Short Distances Traveled Due to Lack of Lifting Power in the Gas —Experience of the American.

St. Paul, Minn., July 20.—All of the five balloons which started from St. Paul Saturday in an effort to surpass the world's distance and endurance record have landed, the Chicago, owned by G. A. Coey of Chicago, winning the contest by traveling a distance of 73 miles in an air line. The Pommeroy, which was the last to report, landed Sunday at 10:30 a. m. near Warsaw, Minn., about 62 miles from St. Paul.

The Chicago, the largest balloon in the race, came down at noon Sunday near Blooming Prairie, Minn., south of St. Paul on the Milwaukee road.

Lieut. J. G. Bennett, pilot of the King Edward, which landed at 7:45 Saturday night at Hampton, Minn., on his return to St. Paul denied the story that his balloon had caught in telephone wires.

Couldn't Carry Enough Ballast.

A. Leo Stevens, director of the race, in explaining the failure of the aeronauts to sail greater distances than they accomplished, said that the lifting power of the gas was not so great as they had counted on and that consequently the balloons were unable to carry near the amount of ballast necessary for a long flight.

Capt. P. S. Hudson, pilot of the balloon American, which landed at 8:15 Saturday evening, six miles south of Owatonna, Minn., 80 miles south of here, returned to St. Paul with his assistant, Horace B. Wild of Chicago.

Trip of the "An."

"We were handicapped to start with," said Mr. W. "because the gas was too heavy. To a long flight we should have carried 50 sacks of sand ballast, but we were unable to get away with more than 14."

"We shot up to a height of 4,000 feet and sailed at that level for a long time. Our highest altitude was 5,200 feet. As the sun began to sink in the west, the gas began to contract and the balloon fell to the 2,000-foot level. Clouds also obscured the sun and caused a further contraction of the gas. We sought a current of air immediately beneath the clouds and for a considerable distance sailed among the most magnificent scenery I have ever beheld."

"As the sun sank further in the west we threw out sand a handful at a time. Finally descended until we were within ten feet of the earth and our trail rope was dragging over trees, fields and fences. We threw out sand and rope again. Determined to stay in the air as long as possible, but soon had to land."

HAWAII GENEROUS TO FLEET.

Great Store of Fruit and Delicacies Distributed Among Vessels.

Honolulu, July 20.—Sunday was a quiet day with the officers and men of the Atlantic battleship fleet. Outside of the various games which took place at the tennis grounds and which hundreds of sailors attended, there was little in the way of formal entertainment except excursions to Pearl Harbor, many of the men taking advantage of the opportunity to inspect the site of the naval station that is being planned. The officers were privately entertained at many residences.

A feature of the entertainment of the fleet Sunday was the presentation of hundreds of tons of fruit and delicacies of all kinds to the various battleships. The great store of good things was loaded on a lighter which was towed to each of the 12 ships in turn, the Hawaiian band being aboard also, and playing native and American airs as the distribution proceeded. A generous supply of food fruits and plenty of reading matter was sent to the island where 850 men of the Nebraska are in quarantine.

The behavior of the men of the fleet ever since they came has been excellent and has aroused many congratulatory remarks.

What is it?

Pasteurization means heating to such a temperature, about 160 degrees F., that most of the germs, including disease germs, are destroyed. The milk is afterwards cooled rapidly and bottled in sterilized bottles. Such a process insures milk practically free from germs and at the same time gives milk which is palatable and digestible.

VOSE PLAYS OVER COURSE

Play for Wilson Lane Cup Continued—Number to Go into State Tournament.

Tomorrow afternoon, according to the present information received by local golfers, the Silver Grays from the Westward Ho club of Chicago will meet the team of Fifty-Year Olds from the local club. The Westward Ho golfers are expected to arrive in the morning and will be taken to the Shinnepark links in automobiles, where they will have a chance to play over the course before the match begins. A number of the Chicago players were expected to leave the Windy City today in an automobile and make the trip to Janesville in that way.

The local players who have been chosen to play on the team so far are H. G. Carter, F. E. Elliff, H. S. McGillich, C. C. MacLean, Orson Sutherland, J. P. Baker, F. W. Morgan, Wilson Lane, John G. Rexford, and A. M. Valentine. F. C. Grant was also picked for the team, but will be out of the city at the time.

The local club has received considerable advertising through its Fifty-Year-Old team and in its last issue says that more enthusiasm has been aroused among the veterans of Westward Ho by the challenge than has ever before been manifested in the game at this club.

FARNSWORTH NAMED AS THE ORGANIZER

Former Janesville Man Chosen by Bryan to Line up the Financial Question.

Don Farnsworth, President of the Hough Shade Corporation of this city and for several years a resident of Janesville, has been in Lincoln in conference with William Jennings Bryan. He has been entrusted with the task of organizing the negro voters of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and other states. Farnsworth is expected to raise a large sum of money to offset the revolt among the colored voters, caused by Mr. Bryan's commendation of Roosevelt and Taft for disbanding some of the negro battalions, some of whose members were charged with having "shot up" Brownsville, Tex., in August, 1906.

Farnsworth's presence here within forty-eight hours after Mr. Bryan had been compelled to "quail" his declaration that he had never "discussed" the Brownsville incident, because of the discovery of a Commoner editorial penned by him, assailing the colored troops quite as fiercely as had Roosevelt and Taft, indicated that the candidate had made up his mind that only desperate measures could secure the negro vote.

Mr. Farnsworth has been suggested to Mr. Bryan as a handy man for treasurer of the national committee. He may be selected when the subcommittee meets at Chicago next week.

There's No Servant Problem

There's no servant problem in the home where Shredded Wheat is known. Being ready-cooked and ready-to-serve, it is a boon to busy housekeepers in summer. It contains all the strength-giving elements of the whole wheat made digestible by steam-cooking, shredding and baking. It makes a delicious, nourishing meal in combination with fresh fruits. Try it. At your grocers.

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work. Try Toasted TRISCUIT, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon, with butter, cheese or marmalade.

"EVERY USER"

Isn't it provoking to order anything and have to wait forever to get it and then probably it won't suit.

You'll avoid all this if you'll let us fill your next order.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Monday, July 20, 1868.—Three Dollars a Day.—The ruling price charged by harvesters is three dollars a day for first class hands.

Fatal Sunstroke at Milton.—We learn from Prof. Twining, that a case of sunstroke occurred at Milton on Friday evening. Mr. Geo. Paulkner, while laboring in the hayfield, near that village, was struck down, and expired soon after being taken to the residence of Mr. A. D. Thompson. He lived only about thirty minutes after the first stroke. He was thirty-five years of age and had no family.

Portland, Me., July 20.—Weston the pedestrian, failed to accomplish his fifty miles in eleven hours at the Forest City park on Saturday. His time was eleven hours, six and one-half minutes.

Boston, July 20.—The Nova Scotia delegates who visited England to get a release of their province from the Canadian Confederation returned to Halifax on the fifteenth and were warmly welcomed by the people. A delegate who had gone over to advocate the confederation also returned with them and was received with honors and demonstrations towards throwing him overboard.

Brazil, July 20.—Brazil is still sending troops to Paraguay. The total number sent since the beginning of the war is 2,219. There is a dispute over the border between Caxias and Washburn, the American minister, because the former refused to allow the Brazilian War to pass up the river. The dispute was transferred to the settlement.

Alaska.—Hon. C. C. Washburn has our thanks for the excellent speech he made in the house against the purchase of Alaska. We believe the general is sound on that question, as he is on most others, and are sorry his advice was not followed in regard to the purchase of those icebergs and snow banks. Even in this roasting weather we have the courage to sustain the general in his opposition to this measure.

MOST POPULAR GIRL IN TOWN

THAT'S THE E-C GIRL, WHO GIVES AWAY DOLLAR BILLS.

WILL STAY SEVERAL DAYS

Everybody Wants to Meet Her—She Has Real Money and is Generous With It.

Yes, indeed, the E-C Girl is here. There's no mistake about that. She's here and she is giving away money, too—nice new dollar bills.

This is the E-C Girl's first day in Janesville. She will remain several days, and declares she is going to be the busiest person in town all the while she is here.

"It might seem like easy work, just giving away money," said the E-C Girl today. "Well, I don't have any trouble finding people who are entitled to my money, but I have to cover a lot of ground every day, and do a lot of talking. For there is no fake about me, you know. When the E-C Company advertised it would send me here it meant just exactly what the advertisement said. Then, besides giving away the money, I try to tell everybody I meet about our dandy good food, E-C Corn Flakes. So you see I keep busy from early morning till evening. But I like it just the same."

Why shouldn't the E-C Girl like her work? She is certainly the most popular young woman in Janesville today. Not that everybody needs her dollars, but there is a novelty about her work which makes her of exceeding interest.

Early this morning, dressed in her beautiful street suit, made of fine linen in the national colors, the E-C Girl left her hotel and drove out over the city with a representative of the E-C Cereal Company. During the day she called at many homes, and at every house where she found a package of E-C Corn Flakes, she left a one dollar bill, a cheery word and a pleasant smile.

For several days she will keep up the good work and give away every dollar in town in a supply of E-C Corn Flakes.

The E-C Girl talked enthusiastically and interestingly of the E-C Cereal Company's great factories at Quincy, Ill., and Buffalo, N. Y., where, every day, nearly half a million packages of E-C Corn Flakes are made and shipped out, fresh and crisp, to all parts of America.

HORSE PLAYS FOOTBALL

Ricobono Comes to America with Wonderfully Trained Animals. Ricobono, the world's greatest animal trainer, who developed the marvelous "Good-Night" horse and electrified all Europe with his wonderful company of four-footed actors, is this year a star feature with Ringling Bros.' World's Greatest Shows.

Beyond question this act is the greatest example of animal education before the public. In addition to the "Good-Night" horse, which wears coat, pants and boots, removes them under its own feet and climbs into it, Ricobono is also exhibiting a horse that plays football, dances on its hind feet and skips the rope. There is nothing under the sun that resembles this great act, nor has anything ever been done that can in any way compare with it.

When Ringling Brothers' circus visits Janesville on Thursday, July 24, it will be noticed that trained animal acts are a prominent feature on the long and varied bill. Frank Schladt's burlesque zebra menage act, three new herds of trained elephants, Wormwood's educated bears, Kerslake and his company of pig actors and a troupe of high-school ponies are a few of the more important offerings in the trained animal war.

It is an all-star European company that is presenting this season's program. Prominent among the riders are the wonderful leaders of France, the great Clark brothers from England, the leading family from Italy, Silvio, Dutton from Australia, the Hobsons, Elva St. Leon, John Agle and Miss Stikney. Among the acrobats are the Patti brothers from Italy, who walk on their heads; the Belfords from Australia; the Mirza, Golems from the court of the Shah of Persia; the Marcella-Murphy, musical acrobats from Italy; the eight St. Leon, Burgeois and Clara, Marguerite and Hany, the Ballons and the eight Cornellos, all from Europe.

On the long list of acrobats are the Clarkons, the Jordans, Alvarez, the Shaws, the Smiths, the Millets, the Wardes, Miss Balliol and the Jordan sisters. In addition to a company of fifty clowns, the circus is furnished by the Prosell (the Horton and the Livingstons, burlesque who and bar actors, and the Tordons in a brilliant travesty. The Martell family and the Jackson family of bicyclists, De Mario and John Miller, contortionists, and a wonderful company of Japs are also of great value as headliners.

The sensation of the excellent program is the automobile double somersault performed by Miss La Belle Roche. It is the most dangerous and daring performance ever achieved. A new parade and a new opening spectacle also add to the enjoyment of the day.

Real Old-Fashioned Baked Beans

Any woman will tell you that when she bakes beans she bakes them in the oven. Soaks them over night—parboils them in two waters—then puts them in the oven to bake. There they stay all day and sometimes all night. That's the old-fashioned way—and HEINZ Baked Beans are baked by similar methods, only in ovens that are a little larger and more convenient.

You never ate baked beans so good as HEINZ—so clean and wholesome—for after they are done to a rich, golden brown through and through, they are sealed in tins without solder, and thoroughly sterilized to bring the beans to your table as pure as when baked. Wouldn't you prefer beans baked this way to beans boiled in soldered cans? Then tell your grocer to give you HEINZ Baked Beans.

Sold by all grocers—10c, 15c, 20c, according to size.

Jealous Chef Kills Three.
Portland, Ore., July 20.—David Connell, chef at the Arlington club in this city, Sunday night in a fit of jealousy shot to death Mrs. Dolly Sharp and a man whose name has not yet been learned. Connell was pursued to his own room, some 15 or 20 squares distant, by a howling mob of several hundred men and boys, and blew his own brains out.

Gifted Women.
There can be no high society where conversation is not the chief attraction; and men seldom learn to talk well when not inspired by gifted women. Women are nothing in the social circle who cannot draw out the sentiments of a man; and a man of genius gains more from the inspiration of one brilliant woman than from all the bookworms of many colleges.

STAY IN HOME TOWN

Why Plunge Into the Maelstrom of Life in a Large City?

"HOMECROFT" BEATS FLATS.

People in Villages and Small Cities
Should Work Together to Build Up Such an Environment That the Young Folks Will Remain There.

George H. Maxwell, who believes in rural and small town life as a greatly preferable to the city, offers this convincing argument in Maxwell's Tallants:

This nation today is enjoying a plethora of prosperity and figures that daze the imagination.

But there is another side to this fruit of material wealth which now seems so luscious that some day, when bitten into, it may prove a bitter sea apple.

It is the abnormal concentration of trade, industry and population in the great cities, where all the influences that degenerate humanity, rich as well as poor, have full sway and grow apace.

And when we study seriously and soberly the effects of this unnatural city life on the mental and physical character of our people it is a serious question whether the gigantic strides we are making in the accumulation of material wealth is not at the expense of human worth and whether it may not turn out in the end to have been too dearly bought.

It has been strikingly said of the elevations of ancient times, which were destroyed by the degeneracy of their people, that they "grew rotten and ripe for destruction not in the fields, but in the narrow lanes and crowded city streets and in the palaces of their nobility."

If any one will walk through the slums of the east side of New York or the slums of Pittsburgh or the tenements of Chicago and see the swarming myriads of children that are growing to manhood and womanhood in these evil environments, he will be startled by the revelation that not a few only but the great majority of our working people in the great centers of population live in surroundings that are unfit for children to be reared in and must inevitably deteriorate the race. From every life lived under such conditions something is taken that cannot be replaced by any figures showing only human activity that has not contributed to the improvement of human life.

The saddest and most depressing thought that can find a place in the mind when contemplating the wretched conditions under which so many millions of lives are lived in this country is the realization of the fact that if a greater proportion of human industry, the same laborious work of human hands that builds the palaces of the millionaires and the millions of the tenements and slums that are occupied by the working people, could be devoted to building the right kind of suburban or rural homes for those same workers, what a different nation this would be a generation or so hence.

While the people are crowding into the cities, the villages and small towns are being depleted not only of their population, but their trade as well. Instead of working together to realize the real joys of village life, with all its possibilities of human sympathy, close friendships, love of nature's beauties and the inspiration of the ideal home life that is possible in such an environment, the spirit of unrest possesses many, and as soon as opportunity offers they plunge into the maelstrom of the city life.

Those who stay in the village, in the majority of cases, do not work together as they might to create an environment so attractive that the city would have no temptations to offer that would lure any human worker away from the safe anchorage of a rural home to the artificial life of the tenement or flat.

The people of other nations are far ahead of us in the realization of the joys of life next to nature and "far from the maddening crowd's ignoble strife." In the orient both the Chinese and the Japanese have for 5,000 years realized for the great majority of their people the pleasure of a life in a homecroft, in an environment that developed the dignity, the mental and physical strength and the thorough and patient energy which are the underlying motive forces that are lifting these nations forward and upward today in the great contest for national superiority in which they are engaged.

Settings for Public Buildings.
Along with the growing appreciation of parkways comes the recognition of the value, even necessity, of a setting of greenward for all public buildings.
In the past arena set aside for municipal buildings have had the whole available space covered by one or more structures. A lawn belt about all municipal buildings is now being demanded, and the cry is growing louder and more unmistakable that these plantation belts should be wider. When this growing artistic spirit has reached the proper stage we shall find grass covered parkways and street trees on all our principal business streets.

Playgrounds a Necessity.
A fundamental condition for the permanent development of a free people is that they shall in childhood learn to govern themselves. Self government is to be learned as an experience rather than taught as a theory; hence in a permanent democracy adequate playgrounds for all the children are a necessity.

Ever Noticed This?
However, it is to be noted that the man who thinks he knows it all, only thinks it. He doesn't know it.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY ROSE TERRILL

have become yellowed and stained by poor washing.

The housekeeper who makes a list of simple stains and remedies and keeps it in her laundry will save herself much worry and loss of time. Remember, too, that a fresh stain is easier to remove than one that has dried in. Do not leave the axicle acid nor the acetic acid in the laundry, as it must be used judiciously and only under the supervision of the housekeeper. Strong soaps are not good for washing colored clothes. And the use of bluing must be looked after.
A pink, green, tan or cream colored garment must never be bleached.

Simply made white clothes for children are the most economical in the long run, as they neither suffer from stain nor fading, but all children like the dainty gingham, so the housemother must arm herself in advance and be prepared to come to the rescue at any time. And remember that scolding never removed a stain from a little garment, and may cloud a happy memory that would some day make your heart glad.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

One of Our Famous Embroidery Offers

We received the following letter from a large New York Importer of embroideries:

GOLDENBERG BROS. & CO., Importers,
New York, July 7, 1908.

Messrs. J. M. Bostwick & Sons, Janesville, Wis.

Gentlemen:—Our Mr. George C. Nock has just arrived home from his territory and finds that we have two jobs of embroideries in which you may be interested. The first consists of NAINSOOK INSERTIONS, about 1373 yds., goods from 1 to 3 inches wide, the original retail prices of which were 25c to $1.25, but in order to clean up our stock we have made the selling price — per yd. to close out this lot. This is a very nice collection of goods and would be a good purchase for anybody who could make use of the quantity."

The second lot did not interest us WE TELEGRAPHED FOR
THE LOT described above and received the insertions July 17th.

The designs consist of fine close work, some in more open eyelet effects, others in the heavier blind work imitation of elaborate hand embroidery, and some beautiful effects in the wide Irish embroidery.

TO MAKE SHORT WORK OF THEM WE PUT THEM IN THREE LOTS.

Lot 1, 19c Lot 2, 22c
Lot 3, 33c

The women that were fortunate enough to call Saturday were very enthusiastic over the values. Some did not come prepared to buy, but said they would surely call today.

As the sudden rain storm Saturday kept a great many people away, we continue the sale through Tuesday.

We have them arranged on the Dress Goods counter, first aisle to right of entrance.

You may never see again such a fine collection of Nainsook insertions at these prices, as the manufacturer will not make such a sacrifice.

See them by all means if you have a want.
